THE Big STORY

Ron Helps Out Seals Too

Although Ron is most well known for his contributions to domesticated animal causes, when The Humane Society of the United States and world renowned photographer, Nigel Barker, needed help for Canadian harp seals, they knew who to call.

Ron will be part of the Honorary Exhibit Host Committee, which barks support for Nigel Barker's upcoming July 24th photography exhibit in New York City. Other Committee members include, Elizabeth Berkley, Tamar Geller, Kelly Bishop, and Tracie Hotchner.

Nigel Barker, recently well-known as a judge on America's Next Top Model, spent many days on the frozen Canadian flocs photographing these seals only days old, and up to two weeks old, which is when they can legally be hunted for their fur. What's happening to these seals is a travesty, and thankfully my hero Ron is helping to stop it.

If you'd like to learn more about Nigel's exhibit or to find out how you can help keep my furry buddies, the seals, safe please visit my dad's website, www.RonBurns.com/nigelbarkerseals.

BITS ABOUT BURNS

Discover new things about "America's Favorite Animal Artist"

Ron grew up in a SMALL Ohio town. From early on, he loved all kinds of animals, and would make frequent trips to his grandparents' farm to admire the barnyard animals. In fact, for the first couple of weeks of this month, he was back in Ohio to visit family and old friends. Perhaps he will return to Arizona with the inspiration to paint cows, pigs, and horses instead of cute canines like me!

WET PAINT!

I'd like to introduce you to my new best friend, Bravo. This lab's got a face any mother could love, and just look at those soulful eyes, and absolutely kissable nose. This guy has everything a dog like me could ask for...BRAVO!

FEATURED RELEASE

Each month we will feature a new original or limited edition that is unique, and explain why it's important!

These mutts are coming down Madison Avenue in New York City. This piece was done for the first National Dog Day, and was part of Ron's personal collection, until just recently when it was released to make room for other favorites.

P.S. Emma Fun Fact -

My leash hides in the closet next to the front door. So, when I hear that door open, I stop whatever I'm doing and run over to the door, dancing in circles, making a specific noise that I created just for dog walks. Oh yeah, and it's great; when Dad reaches into the closet to get my leash, I jump up on his back and push him into the closet – now that's funny!!
